Member Comments: Austin Hardi Pros' yard sign reads, "This home is being carefully restored with James Hardi Siding." Austin Hardi Pro did just that; they restored a house that was in horrible disrepair and transformed it into a beautiful home! Additionally, they installed all new windows. The windows were manufactured by Ringer Windows, an Austin-based company that makes an exceptional product. The siding and the windows are beautiful. From our first meeting with Fran, we felt confident that Austin Hardi Pro could and would do an exceptional job. He very meticulously explained the product and the process. We met several times to be sure every detail of the project would be considered and done well, including color and design. He politely made suggestions, gave honest feedback on our ideas, respected our likes and dislikes, and considered our needs; planning this project felt like a real team effort. This project was a huge undertaking, requiring the ENTIRE exterior to be removed and replaced. The Austin Hardi Pro crew did that masterfully, taking off the old siding and replacing it with new plywood, wrap, and then Hardi siding. Because this house had been neglected so long, I don't believe any of us truly believed the outcome would be as good as it was. The finished exterior is exceptional. Now people regularly stop by and comment on how nice it all looks. It is a home we are proud of.

The Austin Hardi crew are all professional, hardworking, prompt, considerate, and have an eye for detail. Clearly they take pride in their work. They cleaned up the worksite daily and always worked in a 'craftsman like manner.'

Fran's attention to detail and his exceptional crew made this undertaking a pleasant experience. We heartily recommend Austin Hardi Pro and if we ever have another siding project will call them again.
